

PRESS RELEASE

New Client Manager for Alabama!

March 2008

Lowe Engineers is pleased to announce that Mandy Yarbrough has joined our Alabama team. Mandy, who was born and raised in Wadley, AL, earned her Civil Engineering degree at Auburn University in 2001. She is now currently working on a Master's Degree at Troy University Montgomery.

Mandy has over 8 years of experience in several areas of civil engineering including transportation design, land development, and construction administration. She previously worked at Lowe Engineers Atlanta office for over 3 years. After her son Logan was born, Mandy and her husband decided to move back to Alabama to be close to their families.

Mandy enjoys speed walking, water skiing, snow skiing, and playing cards. She has also just added playing hide-&-go seek with her son to the list of favorite things to do.

About Lowe Engineers:
